4) There must be a difference between Secs 9 & 10 & the latter may refer to an exceptional contingency, when no exemptions even are allowed. In that light, the above explanation will hold good. Please put up the file, referring to the Regulation itself. Perhaps, in the Statement of object & reasons, a clue may be found.

5) In the file, it is apparent that reference to act XXXI of 1880 is necessary to get at the object. Please see if a copy is available. In the Code this not to be found, being repealed act.

Sec 10 has, however, got to be construed to refer to same such contingency as is referred to above. Otherwise, there will be no difference between Sec 9 and this section.
